

Annie Gibbins

SPEAKER, COACH, MENTOR

Annie Gibbins has been championing others her entire adult life, giving back and consistently outperforming herself - with what some would agree are ridiculous goals and ideas. Her rise to the top of corporate Australia through transforming the healthcare industry and becoming a global name in the world of female empowerment hasn't been an easy one, nor has the personal life of the woman behind the smile and the laughter. Her story, Becoming Annie, The Biography of a Curious Woman, was released to the public on August 1. Her story is a testimony to mothers, daughters, and granddaughters around the globe. Gibbins is an internationally recognised CEO, Thought Leader, Speaker, Podcast Host, Author and Founder of Lipstick Consulting. She is also a wife, mother, grandmother, adventurer, fundraiser, storyteller, friend, cheerleader, and heart warrior. She is the role model for female leadership and the freedom that comes from sharing your authentic story.

With academic and professional accolades over the past 30 years include growing and transforming health and education businesses across Australasia, a Master of Education, a Bachelor of Nursing, Lean Six Sigma, Cert. IV Fitness and a MAICD. All this has been achieved simultaneously with her career, as a mother of two sets of twins plus one more. Read that again: two sets of twin, plus one more.

In Becoming Annie, Annie reveals how curiosity can bring out the best in you, and release you from a life of comparison, and deliver freedom. The book draws out Gibbins' emphasis on curiosity and ambition.

Annie has experience in pushing personal and professional boundaries, innovative thinking, maximising synergistic opportunities and producing results that matter all come together in Becoming Annie, The Biography of a Curious Woman. Publishing her story was another push against naysayers.
